Their story started here...

Cara and Cristina, second generation Forest Bootery owners, grew up in their father's store. As children, they worked in the store to earn an allowance. After graduating from LFHS and finishing their college degrees, the sisters bought the store from their father in 1996, and gradually added new fashion footwear lines, outerwear, and women's clothing. When you support Forest Bootery, you ensure that this highly regarded community favorite will be around for generations to come.
